Attendance, notes, etc.

We have officially completed the first month of 2022 and we’re off to a great start. Your students’ daily attendance is critical for their academic and social emotional success. We understand there are times when students must miss school due to illness and other various reasons. Please remember to send a doctor’s, parent note, etc. within three days of your child returning to school. We are required to process attendance concerns and your communication with the campus can avoid any unnecessary steps towards truancy.

Counselor’s Corner

This month, we will be covering the character topic of “Honesty”. It’s important for them to realize that even when they’ve made a mistake, they should still remain truthful despite the consequences they may have to endure.

Sidetone: Thank you for sending your kids to school with positivity in the mornings. We’ve heard many “I love you’s”, “Have a good day”, “Make the right choices”, etc. It makes a difference in their day! :)

Reading Goals

Students will be working on reading goals for the remainder of the school year. We will be rewarding students for reaching their reading goal. We would like all students to read 50 books by a designated time frame. The reading committee will be sent out more information regarding our school wide reading challenge. Thank you for continuing to read with your children every day. We are seeing a lot of reading progress in our students!
