Stewart Elementary’s Reading Race

We are challenging each student to read 50 books between March 1- May 20! There will be incentives awarded for every 10 books that each student reads. We will be sending home a reading log for students and parents to fill out to record the books read at home. Our goal is that we get students excited about reading AND reward their efforts with goodies along the way. For the students who read 50 books they will be invited to attend our “Author Party” on the last week of school where we will have a published author come in and read their book to our students! Then we will continue to celebrate our readers with a snack/dance party! We are SO excited to support our students’ love of reading!
